Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-01 - Severity P1 first response target

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Severity P1 first response target: 15 minutes.

This section defines the rule for severity p1 first response target. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-02 - Severity P1 restoration target

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Severity P1 restoration target: 4 hours.

This section defines the rule for severity p1 restoration target. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-03 - Severity P2 first response target

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Severity P2 first response target: 1 hour.

This section defines the rule for severity p2 first response target. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-04 - Severity P3 first response target

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Severity P3 first response target: 1 business day.

This section defines the rule for severity p3 first response target. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-05 - Routine support service hours

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Routine support service hours: 09:00 to 18:00 UTC.

This section defines the rule for routine support service hours. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-06 - Severity P1 on-call availability

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Severity P1 on-call availability: 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

This section defines the rule for severity p1 on-call availability. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-07 - Customer support ticket intake

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Customer support ticket intake: the customer support portal.

This section defines the rule for customer support ticket intake. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-08 - Severity P1 customer update interval

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Severity P1 customer update interval: 30 minutes.

This section defines the rule for severity p1 customer update interval. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-09 - Closed support ticket retention

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Closed support ticket retention: 12 months.

This section defines the rule for closed support ticket retention. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-10 - Routine support working days

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Routine support working days: Monday through Friday.

This section defines the rule for routine support working days. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-11 - Live support chat language

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Live support chat language: English.

This section defines the rule for live support chat language. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Customer Support Faq

CUSTOMER_SUPPORT_FAQ-12 - Severity P4 first response target

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Severity P4 first response target: 3 business days.

This section defines the rule for severity p4 first response target. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.