Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-01 - Domestic meal reimbursement cap

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Domestic meal reimbursement cap: USD 35 per person per day.

This section defines the rule for domestic meal reimbursement cap. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-02 - Domestic hotel reimbursement cap

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Domestic hotel reimbursement cap: USD 180 per night.

This section defines the rule for domestic hotel reimbursement cap. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-03 - Personal vehicle mileage rate

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Personal vehicle mileage rate: USD 0.45 per kilometer.

This section defines the rule for personal vehicle mileage rate. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-04 - Expense claim submission deadline

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Expense claim submission deadline: 30 calendar days after purchase.

This section defines the rule for expense claim submission deadline. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-05 - Complete expense claim review target

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Complete expense claim review target: 7 business days.

This section defines the rule for complete expense claim review target. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-06 - Travel preapproval spending threshold

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Travel preapproval spending threshold: USD 500.

This section defines the rule for travel preapproval spending threshold. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-07 - Maximum reimbursable gratuity

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Maximum reimbursable gratuity: 15 percent of the meal charge.

This section defines the rule for maximum reimbursable gratuity. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-08 - Alcohol reimbursement eligibility

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Alcohol reimbursement eligibility: not reimbursable.

This section defines the rule for alcohol reimbursement eligibility. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-09 - Business flight cabin

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Business flight cabin: economy class.

This section defines the rule for business flight cabin. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-10 - Required receipt format

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Required receipt format: an itemized receipt.

This section defines the rule for required receipt format. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-11 - Foreign currency conversion date

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Foreign currency conversion date: the transaction date.

This section defines the rule for foreign currency conversion date. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Expense Policy

EXPENSE_POLICY-12 - Expense dispute review owner

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Expense dispute review owner: the Finance controller.

This section defines the rule for expense dispute review owner. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.