Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-01 - Paid parental leave

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Paid parental leave: 16 weeks.

This section defines the rule for paid parental leave. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-02 - Bereavement leave allowance

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Bereavement leave allowance: 5 working days.

This section defines the rule for bereavement leave allowance. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-03 - Marriage leave allowance

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Marriage leave allowance: 3 working days.

This section defines the rule for marriage leave allowance. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-04 - Paid jury service limit

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Paid jury service limit: 20 working days.

This section defines the rule for paid jury service limit. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-05 - Planned leave request notice

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Planned leave request notice: 5 working days.

This section defines the rule for planned leave request notice. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-06 - Medical certificate requirement

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Medical certificate requirement: after 3 consecutive sick days.

This section defines the rule for medical certificate requirement. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-07 - Company public holiday allowance

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Company public holiday allowance: 12 days per calendar year.

This section defines the rule for company public holiday allowance. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-08 - Compensatory time expiry

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Compensatory time expiry: 60 calendar days after accrual.

This section defines the rule for compensatory time expiry. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-09 - Unpaid personal leave annual maximum

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Unpaid personal leave annual maximum: 30 calendar days.

This section defines the rule for unpaid personal leave annual maximum. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-10 - Emergency leave notification deadline

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Emergency leave notification deadline: before the scheduled shift starts.

This section defines the rule for emergency leave notification deadline. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-11 - Leave approval owner

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Leave approval owner: the line manager.

This section defines the rule for leave approval owner. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.

Northstar Labs

Leave Policy

LEAVE_POLICY-12 - Minimum vacation booking unit

Fictional demonstration knowledge base. Version 1.0. This policy applies to employees and the Atlas product only where explicitly stated.

Minimum vacation booking unit: half a working day.

This section defines the rule for minimum vacation booking unit. Employees should use this published rule when planning the activity described in this section. The policy owner is responsible for keeping the approved wording current. A request that falls outside the scope of this rule must be referred to the policy owner rather than interpreted as an automatic exception.

Operational process: read the applicable section before submitting a request. Describe the business purpose, attach the supporting information, and route the request through the approved internal workflow. The reviewer checks whether the request is complete and whether it falls within the published policy. Keep the approval with the request so that the decision can be audited later.

The procedural notes describe administration of this section. They do not create additional benefits, prices, service commitments, or technical limits. Different policies can use similar terminology while governing different activities. A rule from another document should not be substituted for this section without an explicit cross-reference. Employee-specific records, forecasts, future policy revisions and confidential credentials are outside the scope of this demonstration knowledge base.